PRISON TERM IS GIVEN DR. FUCHS

Government Rests Its Contempt Case Against U. M. W.

Judge Denies Union Motion For Dismissal

Negotiations Are Resumed On Coal Wage Contract

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 1.—The government rested its contempt case against the United Mine Workers today and Federal Judge Richmond B. Keech immediately denied a union motion that the charges of civil and criminal contempt be thrown out for lack of evidence.

The dismissal motions were made by Welly K. Hopkins, counsel for John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers, after H. Graham Morison, government attorney, closed his case for the United States.

Resume Negotiations

Negotiations for a new coal wage contract were resumed at 11:15 a. m. EST at the Statler hotel with Lewis absent.

Union Vice President Thomas Kennedy told reporters that Lewis is expected to return sometime today from Springfield, Ill., where he attended the funeral of his brother.

David L. Cole, chairman of President Truman's fact-finding board, frankly admitted that he does not expect much progress to be made with Lewis out of the meeting.

The government rested its case at 10:05 a. m. EST, little more than half an hour after the third day's testimony had opened and after the government had won an important round by obtaining the admission of documents designed to show a pattern between the 1946 injunction proceedings and that now under way.

Defense Motions Denied

Hopkins offered two acquittal motions. His first moved that all government testimony be stricken and that a judgement of acquittal be entered on the ground that testimony by the government was "insufficient and does not prove the charges" to sustain either a civil or criminal contempt citation and

PA NEWC OBSERVES

George Glass of 819 West North street comes forth with an interesting piece of information concerning the Clendenin building which was destroyed by fire on Monday. Mr. Glass says his grandfather whose name also was George Glass, was contractor for the building, which was erected about 1868, making the structure about 81 years old. He said that lumber for the building was cut at a planing mill located on the site of the First Methodist church. The window frames were made of cast iron and cast in the city.

Quite unlike the downtown busy business corner it used to be, South Mercer and East Washington streets, is today reminiscent of the World War II days of blitzed London and Berlin.

Advent on March this morning, was something on the lion order, Pa Newc would opine. Temperatures dropped about twenty degrees during the night, and there was a decided change in weather conditions from those prevailing last night.

Work of clearing away the fire debris at the corner of East Washington and Mercer streets continues today. The building site and Mercer street are being cleared. Traffic has been detoured between Washington and North streets in Mercer street since the outbreak of the fire. Weather conritions today cut down the sidewalk audience that watched proceedings on Monday and Tuesday.

Indo-China And Indonesia May Get U.S. China Funds

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 1.—(INS)—The Chinese Nationalist government may never see any of the 75 million dollars given President Truman by Congress to stop Communism in Asia.

Instead, top priority is reported today to be given to Indo-China and Indonesia, where Communism threatens but is not in power.

State department experts indicate that they may be governed in recommendations to the President by findings of a 10-man U. S. technical mission now enroute to Saigon, capital of the new Vietnam republic.

Saigon is the chief military objective of Ho Chi-Minh, Moscow-recognized as head of the state of Vietnam.

To Study Problems

France, former overlord of Indo-China, the United States and most western powers, as well as the neighboring nation of Thailand (Siam) have recognized Bao Dai, onetime French-approved Emperor of the area as legal head of the Saigon government.

Studies will also be made of problems confronting the two new adjoining states of Laos and Cambodia.

Indo-China is considered focal since she adjoins Communist China and has Red troops stationed on her boundaries. There is some belief that the Chinese Communists are lending a hand to Ho Chi-Minh. If Indo-China falls, it is felt certain that Thailand will follow, threatening the Malay states and Burmam.

The United States, aside from political assistance, is planning to extend military and economic assistance to the country.

Russia Hikes Currency Value

MOSCOW, Mar. 1.—(INS)—Diplomatic missions in Moscow found their dollars buying fewer rubles today after Russia hiked the value of Soviet currency.

The ruble is now a straight 25 cents—a raise in value from a former 5.3 to four rubles to the American dollar.

Diplomats will continue to enjoy a better rate than the normal but their dollars now will buy six rubles whereas previously they bought eight.

Even this privilege rate will be wiped out completely.

Under the revaluation announced yesterday the British pound sterling will purchase 16.80 rubles for diplomats.

The diplomatic rate is 25 per cent lower than the rate which previously prevailed.

Production Of Coke Slashed

PITTSBURGH, March 1.—(INS)—United States Steel corporation cut coke production at its nearby Clairton works to 25 per cent, effective at noon today.

Monday the nation's largest steel producer had slashed coke production to 50 per cent. A corporation spokesman said the curtailment, caused by the coal shortage, would not immediately affect steel production.

Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal company, meanwhile, ordered salaries of 2,700 employes reduced from five to 20 per cent and said it would decrease common stock quarterly dividends from 75 cents to 50 cents.

American Airlines Mechanics Strike

NEW YORK, March 1.—(INS)—American Airline mechanics went out on strike today, but the company said it will continue its flights on schedule.

The strike started in New York and other eastern cities at 7:30 a. m, EST. It was to become effective across the country at 7:30 a. m. in each time zone.

Airline officials said flights will be made with supervisory employes.

Some 4,600 mechanics, members of the CIO-Trapsport Workers Union, are expected to be affected.

Last minute bargaining over their demands for a 20-cent-an-hour across the board pay hike, and a guarantee that work would not be contracted to outside firms, failed to effect a compromise and was ended early this morning.

Oklahoma City Leopard Dies

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 1.—(INS)—A recurrence of pneumonia was blamed today for the death of Oklahoma City's footloose leopard only 16 hours after it was snared with drugged horsemeat near the same zoo cage from which it leaped to freedom.

The 175-pound jungle cat never emerged from the drugged sleep which ended its 60 hours of freedom from a 22-foot deep, unbarred pit at the Lincoln Park zoo. The leopard escaped last Saturday.

Zoo Director Julian Frazier said the leopard "will be mounted, probably life-size" and placed on permanent exhibit somewhere in the city.

The jungle-bred beast eluded a safari-type posse of hunters including marine reservists who used airplanes, a helicopter and specially trained dogs, only to succumb to the bait of two four-pound chunks of horsemeat dosed with chloral hydrate.

Arrest 1,237 Traffic Law Violators Here In Month

One thousand, two hundred and thirty-seven motorists broke motoring laws in the city last month, according to a police department checkup.

Seventy-six were arrested for speeding.

One thousand ninety-six received tags for breaking parking laws.

Eight were arrested for driving while intoxicated.

One arrest on a twin charge—driving while drunk and larceny.

Fifty-six others were arrested for other traffic regulation breeches.

"Although speeding has decreased here, the 'drive' to stamp it out will continue," said Chief of Police Robert D. Hanna today.

He also said that parking of cars in restricted zones, such as alleys, is certain to result in a ticket being presented to the motorist.

"Alleys are no places in which to park because of the likelihood of fire. If a conflagration broke out near an alley firemen couldn't use the alley," the chief stated.

The chief said driving while drunk is a menace to not only the driver himself, but to other cars on the road, and declared:

"We intend to stamp it out in New Castle, if such is possible."

Doctor Tells Of Interview With Dr. Sander

Quotes Dr. Sander As Claiming Husband Granted Permission

(BULLETIN)

MANCHESTER, N. H., March 1.—(INS)—A statement by Dr. Albert Snay, read at the Sander "mercy murder" trial today, revealed his belief that Mrs. Abbie Borroto was dead before Dr. Hermann N. Sander injected air in her veins.

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

MANCHESTER, N. H., March 1. Dr. Hermann N. Sander was quoted by a medical colleague today as claiming he had the permission of Reginald Borroto to cut short the painful last moments of Mrs. Abbie Borroto's life.

The testimony came from Dr. Robert E. Biron, medical refree of Hillsborough county, at the doctor's trial for the alleged mercy killing of Mrs. Borroto last Dec. 4.

Borroto already has testified he did not ask Dr. Sander to end his wife's life.

Dr. Biron, the first state witness on the eighth day of the sensational trial, told of reading the records of the cancer case on the morning of Dec. 29 and then confronting Dr. Sander with his statements about injecting air into her veins shortly before she died.

Suffering Two Years

He said Dr. Sander told him Mrs. Borroto had been suffering from cancer about two years, and that her death was due to cancer of the bowel.

A hush fell over the courtroom as Dr. Biron went on:

"I asked him why he had in-

One of the victims was a negro preacher, J. T. Turner, 76, who had been stabbed eight times with an ice pick.

His throat had been slashed, apparently with a bloody razor found outside, and his head had been bludgeoned with an ax.

His three children were slain with the ax and razor as they lay in their beds.

Next door, officers found the body of Harvey Arline, 51-year-old negro, who had been killed with a shotgun blast.

Officers are holding, without charge, Hattie Mae Turner, 32, wife of the elderly minister.

Loyalty Files May Be Opened

Senate Probers May Be Granted Access

WASHINGTON, March 1—(INS)—Administration lieutenants predicted today that President Truman will permit senators investigating the McCarthy communist charges to inspect employee loyalty files.

Mr. Truman, it was stated, may resolve the loyalty list issue by inviting the Tydings subcommittee to see the records involving any accused, but without removing them from executive jurisdiction. The president already has said the files will not be released.

Sen. McCarthy (R) Wis., whose accusations launched the inquiry, kept the loyalty issue alive by challenging Secretary of State Acheson's statement that he would "never knowingly tolerate any disloyal person in the state department." McCarthy said:

"If this is so, why doesn't he take the cases he knows about already and get rid of them?"

The freshman Republican asserted that Acheson would find that the 80 cases he cited on the senate floor last week "all fall into the dangerous group" the secretary described before the appropriations committee yesterday.

Acheson told the appropriations members that he "did not and does not condone" the offenses charged against Alger Hiss, former state official convicted of perjury in New York.

LONDON, ENGLAND—Prime Minister Clement R. Attlee reshuffled his Socialist cabinet but since his majority in Parliament is so small he left most of his key ministers in their old jobs. Western Foreign Ministers May Have Spring Meeting

(BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, March 1—(INS)—Secretary of State Acheson said today that a meeting of the Big Three Western foreign ministers might well be needed this spring.

Acheson made his comment at a news conference following reports from Paris that a meeting of the British, American and French foreign ministers is expected to take place.

The secretary also said that there has been some discussion of further action under Article Two of the North Atlantic Pact which provides that the parties to it will seek means of developing peaceful and friendly relations, promote conditions of stability and avoid conflict in international economic policies.

He added that while this matter is under continuous study no concrete steps are planned at present.

Other Points

Other points made by Acheson at the conference were:

1. The State Department fully supports U.S. High Commissioner for Germany John J. McCloy that full and free elections should be held throughout Germany for uni-

Pleads Guilty To Giving Russia A-Bomb Secrets

'Split Personality' Defense Claim Is Rejected By Court

By CHARLES A. SMITH
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Mar. 1.—Brilliant German-born physicist Dr. Klaus Fuchs pleaded guilty today to betraying U. S. and British atomic secrets to Russia and was sentenced immediately to a maximum prison term of 14 years.

The meek-looking "Jekyll and Hyde" Communist spy startled the jammed court at the conclusion of his swift trial in London's famed Old Bailey by confessing he was guilty not only of the four specific counts against him but of "other crimes" as well.

Other Crimes Not Given

The "other crimes" were not specified.

British Attorney General Sir Hartley Shawcross declared that the information passed by Fuchs "would undoubtedly have been of great assistance" to Russia, which Shawcross labelled as "a potential enemy."

Shawcross said Fuchs, a naturalized Briton, committed his "very grave' act of betrayal solely "because of his fanatical devotion to the cause of Russian communism."

Britain's Lord Chief Justice Goddard, as he sentenced the 38-year-old scientist, castigated him as "one of the most dangerous men this country could have on its shores"

Fuchs accepted these bitter indictments with no visible emotion, and informed the court in a low voice:

"I have had a fair trial."

Only One Witness

PITTSBURGH, March 1.—(INS)—Two of three 6,000 gallon gasoline storage tanks at the A. B. Speir service station in nearby McKees Rocks blew up today, shattering windows for blocks around and injuring at least one man.

Police said that the blast was evidently caused by sparks escaping from a fire in the scrap yards of the Linder Scrap Co. which adjoins the rear of the service station where the underground tanks were located.

Reports from as far as six blocks away indicated that buildings were trembling. Near neighbors said they thought the blast, which broke windows, was in their own homes.

Arthur Mometer

This is St. David's Day, you know, or did you know the date? I'd wish him many happy days, but it's a little late. For David died long years ago, a sainted man was he, a man who when a fight was on right on the spot was he. But only fights concerning works of church and godly men, he packed a wallop so they say, with words, that cut and when some wicked group assailed the church he knew what he should do and did so with a right good will—the weathers' thirty-two.

Chiang Kai-Shek Resumes Post

By ADM. CHARLES M. COOKE
(Retired Four-Star U.S. Navy Admiral)
(I. N. S. Special Correspondent)

TAIPEI, Formosa, March 1.—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek formally resumed the Nationalist presidency today and swore that his forces "will recover the mainland" of China which he declared has become a "satellite of Soviet Russia".

The grizzled war leader announced his return to the presidential office in a ringing proclamation in which he accused the communists of having imposed upon China the "gravest catastrophe" in its 5,000-year history.

Reading his proclamation to a group of Nationalist officials and military chiefs, Chiang further charged that the recently-signed Moscow-Peiping treaty placed China's millions under "Russian servitude", increased the communist peril to all Asia and "intensified the world crisis".

He confessed that "I must put the blame upon myself" for having contributed to the present state of affairs by relinquishing his presidential duties 13 months ago in what he described as the false hope that others could reach an acceptable peace with the communists.

He promised to "make up for what I failed to do in the past and do my best in planning for the future".

TRUCK DRIVER IS EXONERATED

PITTSBURGH, March 1.—(INS)—A coroner's jury in Pittsburgh today exonerated Morris V. McClain, 24, of Tarentum, of responsibility in the auto death of Mrs. Cora Ethel Shields, 68, of Arnold.

Mrs. Shields was killed February 11 when she was struck by McClain's truck in front of St. Joseph's cemetery on Freeport road in Birdville.

A witness testified the woman ran directly in front of the vehicle and that McClain drove off the road in an effort to avoid hitting her.

DOCTOR TELLS OF INTERVIEW WITH DR. SANDER

jected air into the patiest's veins. He replied that she had been suffering a great deal.

"I asked him if he realized the consequence of what he was doing. He said he did.

"I asked him if he realized Mrs. Borroto had died of air injection. He said he did."

As he described his conversation with Dr. Sander, Dr. Biron consulted a batch of yellow notes.

Defense Attorney Louis E. Wyman objected to his using the notes and demanded he give his testimony from memory.

Atty. Gen. William E. Phinney said Dr. Biron was merely refreshing his memory. In reply to questions Biron said he made the notes of the Sander conversation about 3 p. m. the same day—shortly after he left the hospital.

"Breaking the Law?"

Dr. Biron stuffed his notes back in his pocket. Resuming his story, he said:

"I asked Dr. Sander if he knew he was breaking the law. He said he did. He said he had the permission of Mr. Borroto."

Dr. Biron pulled out his notes and started to look at them. Again Defense Attorney Wyman objected and asked that the record show Biron was consulting notes.

The witness then went on:

"Dr. Sander said he felt that he might have broken the law, but that the law was not correct in this case, and that it should be changed.

"I asked him why he did it?

"He said Mr. Borroto had been nervous and upset over his wife's condition. He told me about Mr. Borroto the night before having smoked many cigarettes and drunk a lot of coffee.

"The doctor said that in a weak moment he had injected the air into Mrs. Borroto."

SCHOOL HOUSE BURNS

HAZLETON, Pa., March 1.—(INS)—A wind-whipped fire today destroyed the four-story Walnut Street Grade school in Hazelton. The loss was estimated at $250,000.

The cause of the blaze has not been determined. The fire started about 5 a.m. and firemen battled the raging flames for several hours before bringing it under control.

The value of the working elephant in India was at one time approximately $7,000. However, since the advent of the tractor, the usefulness of the elephant has decreased and its present-day value is only about $150.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our beloved mother, Enrichetta Rotunno, who passed away six years ago today, March 1, 1944.

We think of mom in silence
No eyes can see us weep,
But many a silent tear we shed
When others are asleep.
A happy home we once enjoyed
Have sweet the memory still,
But death has left a loneliness
The world can never fill.

a security officer at the Harwell Atomic Laboratory where Fuchs was employed. He testified that there was no evidence on which Fuchs could have been prosecuted, until he confessed.

Chief Justice Goddard brushed aside Fuchs' claims in his confession to a "split personality" and a mind "broken in two" with the tart comment:

"I cannot understand all this metaphysical philosophy. But I know he has given away valuable secrets and he is sane."

Final Statement

Fuchs, in his final statement, spoke ot the court in a low voice. Blinking quietly behind his thick-lensed glasses, he said:

"I have committed certain crimes with which I am charged and have also committed crimes other than the ones with which I am charged.

"When I asked my counsel to put certain facts before you, I did so in order to atone for those other crimes."

He then thanked the Lord Justice for his fair trial, and his counsel. He also thanked the governor and staff of Brixton jail, where he has been lodged since his arrest, for their "considerate treatment." Then he was led away.

Defense counsel said an appeal may be taken. It must be filed within ten days.

Presented Case

Sir Hartley Shawcross, British Attorney General, presented the case for the Crown and made clear that Fuchas' spying and relay of secret information was solely for the benefit of Soviet Russia.

Shawcross related in great detail the various contacts that Fuchs maintained over a period of seven years with secret agents for the Soviet Union.

When the court clerk read from the indictment four specific charges ladged against Fuchs and asked the mild-mannered defendant whether or not he was guilty, the prisoner replied simply:

"Guilty."

Justice Goddard dealt with the case in the precise but brusque legal manner that has made him famous in the British law courts for almost half a century

Imposing the 14-year jail term provided for in any violation of the British official secrets act, the stern-faced judge said:

"This is the maximum sentence which parliament has ordained for this crime."

Shawcross presented the government's case by reading from Fuchs' confession at Bow Street court on February 10 in which the master spy said he had deliberately "broken his mind in two" for the cause of communism."

fication of the nation. This was proposed in Paris last June, he recalled, but Soviet Foreign Minister Vishinsky prevented an agreement.

2. The State Department is trying to get all details available on the bombing and strafing of two U.S. flag merchant ships in Tsingtao Harbor Monday.

3. The department has reached no conclusions on the significance of the Russians revaluing the ruble inasmuch as the ruble's value is entirely theoretical and artificial.

4. The work of evacuating U.S. officials from Communist China is proceeding with the Peiping staff expected to be the last to leave toward the end of March. A few hundred other Americans in Shanghai have requested evacuation with the officials and arrangements are being made to send transportation into blockaded Shanghai for them.

FIVE PERSONS FOUND SLAIN IN GEORGIA HOME

reached her home, the door was locked. She said a woman's voice answered her calls.

Then a shot rang out, and the woman ran. She said someone was chasing her until she managed to get away and reach Cairo police.

When Lunsford and Sheriff C. H. Strickland reached the scene, they found Hattie Turner "running around" outside her home.

The officers found Turner's body first. A shotgun, ice pick and ax were found in the room.

In a back bedroom, they found the bodies of Jimmie Lou Turner, 10, and her sister Bobbie Jo, 5. The children's bodies were lying on one bed.

In another bed in the same room was the body of 8-year old J. T. Turner. The throats of all three children had been slashed. All three had been struck on the head with an ax.

Lunsford said that Hattie Turner told him that she woke up to find someone fighting with her husband. Then, she said, she ran outside.

Lunsford said, however, that there was no evidence of a fight in the bedroom.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin" first appeared in an anti-slavery newspaper, the Washington National Era, in 1852.

DO YOU HAVE IDEAS ABOUT A FUNERAL?

Many people have some particular ideas they would like to have included in a funeral service. Some may not know that it is perfectly proper to make arrangements with the funeral director to have those plans fulfilled.

In the case of aged folks, or others who have no close relatives to attend such matters, there often is no other way to give instructions about the service that is desired.

The management of the Boyd Home for Funerals has aided many to plan services according to their individual wishes. These plans are then locked in our safe. When the time comes, they will be fulfilled exactly as the patron desired.

BACK TO EARTH

Obviously with tongue in cheek the operator of Meramec caverns in Missouri has approached the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for a loan to convert the natural caves into a national refuge in event of a new war. This may be a publicity gag but it's the kind of joke that freezes on the lips.

The frightful prospect of civilization sent asunder in the cataclysmic wake of several judiciously placed hydrogen bombs has given many people the idea of fitting out a hole in the ground. Few have the good fortune to own such a ready-made bulwark as Meramec.

The Missouri realist would convert his vast underground premises into an emergency seat of government, or failing that, a repository for the best scientific and educational brains of the land. And to insure the continuity of the race he would also provide haven for a representative group of young people, selected on the basis of highest eugenic and aptitude standards.

This subterranean community, trumpets his press agent, "could be the nucleus for an entirely new world"—a modern Noah's Ark, if you please. But what supreme tribunal is to choose who is entitled to preservation? And if this world goes to pot who wants to stick around anyway to foment another?

A PEBBLE FELLED GOLIATH

There is something challenging about the fact that a 17-year-old girl's testimonial about democracy will be translated into the Ukrainian tongue of her parents—and beamed across the seas deep into the lands dominated by the Soviets.

This is the testimonial of Gloria Chomiak, whose essay "I Speak for Democracy" has won her national honors. Born in Canada of Ukrainian parents, Gloria came to this country two years ago—and she speaks out boldly and courageously for democracy because, as she says, two generations back her ancestors could not.

She is now engaged in translating her essay into Ukrainian and she will broadcast it by way of the Voice of America for Slavic consumption.

It is not hard to imagine some family somewhere in the Ukraine listening to this girl as she tells of democracy and what it offers the people of the United States. Her own brief experience in this country is a testimonial of its own to the advantages of the American system.

But, it may be asked, what can a slip of a girl do—in the face of the immensity of the communist empire? The probabilities are that her essay, no matter how much it may impress Americans, will not make a dent overseas.

But there is the story of a shepherd boy going forth to battle a giant—and the only weapon David had was a sling shot. Who ever thought that a well-rounded pebble hurled from a single sling shot could have felled a giant? Who will say that the message of a girl will bear no fruit?

ANTI-SUB DEFENSES

There have been many warnings that Soviet possession of a sizable fleet of schnorkel submarines is one of the gravest dangers facing the United States. There has been evidence that the Navy, whose job it is to neutralize this threat, is deeply concerned, and is bending every energy to solving the host of problems posed by these undersea weapons.

A comprehensive survey of the anti-submarine warfare program was initiated several months ago by Admiral Forrest P. Sherman, Chief of Naval Operations. There is no indication what the survey has turned up to date. It is doubtful that the Navy would say much about it anyway.

But it is common knowledge that anti-submarine warfare (ASW) training is going full blast at Key West. There is a special ASW problem scheduled in conjunction with the all-service amphibious exercise (Operation Portex) in the Caribbean this month.

Announcement last week that the Navy has taken delivery of the first of a group of sub-killer planes made good reading. The Navy air arm is quite frank in stating that it may be the nemesis of the schnorkel sub. Not only does it carry elaborate new electronic equipment for searching out subs traveling at "breathing depth" or completely submerged, but it also seems to be a formidable flying arsenal of anti-sub weapons, including mines, torpedoes, depth charges and guns.

The plane has exceptional range and can be carrier-launched, although it has never been revealed whether two-engined planes of this type can be carrier-landed.

The basis of much of the concern regarding Russia's subs seems to have been their potential value as platforms for launching guided missiles with atomic warheads from points close to the American coastline while the skies were being guarded against an air attack. If this new plane proves to be the answer to this threat, the nation's immediate defense prospect would seem to be brighter.

While speaking about his nation's new budget, France's finance minister fainted. A split second before the taxpayers?

A bright side to a late winter blizzard is that it keeps in check, at least temporarily, the annual flood of spring poetry.

Speculation On Liberal Party

The enigma of Britain's Liberal party—twice counted out for dead in the last 60 years but quite obviously still a potent factor in politics—caused a wave of speculation in London today.

Die-hard conservatives are absolutely certain that had the liberals stayed out of last Thursday's bitter election, the Laborite party of Prime Minister Attlee would have been thrown out of office and Socialism-plus-nationalization would have been halted in its tracks.

Labor party leaders on the other hand feel that liberal participation was responsible for the slim and shaky majority with which the government has emerged.

Liberals To Stay

But in the face of everything, liberal leaders, encouraged by their two and a half million popular votes if not by their handful of nine successful candidates, insist that they will stay firmly in the picture. They are convinced that in traditional British liberalism lies the only sane course between course between extreme Socialism and "hidebound Toryism".

The conservative attitude, heavily tinctured with annoyance, was explained eloquently by the London Daily Telegraph which said:

"One thing which this election has placed beyond doubt is the final and total eclipse of the Liberal party. The country has given its unmistakable decision that it has no use for a center party floating in a sort of nebulous limbo between the other two."

The Telegraph, however, did not pay tribute to the liberals' past achievements.

Obviously, these were high in the consciousness of liberal leaders when they decided to throw all possible weight into the election despite the opinion of most observers that the people of Britain have expressed definite preference for a clear-cut two-party system.

Over a period of 83½ years from 1830 until outbreak of the first world war, liberal governments held power for a total of 52½ years.

Nine Liberal Prime Ministers

There were nine liberal prime ministers, including such names as Gladstone, Campbell-Bannerman and Asquith. There is no doubt that in its heyday, as the Telegraph concedes, the Liberal party "was the vehicle of a great and beneficient ideal".

The newspaper insists, however, that the Conservative party now is the only logical, legitimate and capable heir of liberalism's great traditions.

Britain's Liberal party, which gradually began to supplant the Whigs from 1830 onward, always had a policy that was difficult of exact definition. It ignored ordinary political doctrines and strove to avoid demagoguery. It always embraced varying shades of political opinion. But in general its policy was set forth in these words:

"Liberalism is a belief in the value of human personality.

Source Of All Progress

"It is a conviction that the source of all progress lies in the free exercise of individual energy.

"It produces an eagerness to emancipate all individuals or groups so that they may freely exercise their powers, so far as this can be done without injury to others.

"It therefore involves a readiness to use the power of the state for the purpose of creating the conditions within which individual energy can thrive, or preventing all abuses of power, of affording to every citizen the means of acquiring mastery of his own capacities and of establishing a real equality of opportunity for all."

These high-sounding principles were framed at a time of revolutions throughout Europe. The men who dared utter them faced social oblivion or worse in the England of that time, and ostracism at banquets and state functions became a normal hazard of politics.

They brought in many reforms, however, and it is a fact that under liberal rule, British imperial expansionism ended and the term "British commonwealth of nations" was coined to take the place of empire.

Most of the tenets have been embodied in both conservative and laborite platforms in one form or another although conservatives claim that free enterprise in the liberal sense is impossible under Socialism. The liberals maintain it is equally impossible under Toryism. And so they feel that revival of the liberal form of government holds the key to everything.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

SUGAR TOP CAUSE OF BAD TEETH

Twenty years ago or less we parents were told not to bother with a toothbrush for ourselves or our children except for aesthetic purposes. All we needed to do was to eat proper foods being sure we got the necessary vitamins. Where as some of us grandparents tried to keep candy from our children, especially between meals, there has not been in recent years much warning against sweets, and there have been growing allurements among sweets for children. In educational propaganda at home or school there's not much propaganda against sugar in relation to dental preservation.

Yet some rather recent studies of tooth decay indicate that while proper foods create in teeth considerable resistance to decay, the leading other cause of tooth decay is sugar in the mouth.

Summarized Studies

In Science News Letter of December 10, 1949, are summarized studies by Drs. H. W. Haggard and Leon A. Greenberg at Yale University. These scientists are not dentists, they are physiologists. They assume that if sugar is a cause of tooth decay, the damage it will do the teeth will be related to how much sugar is in the mouth, especially to how long it stays there.

They found that a caramel and orange juice brought to the saliva almost the same high content of sugar. But there was almost no sugar left in the saliva from orange juice after 20 minutes, while there was considerable still in the Saliva from the caramel after 45 minutes. When, however, the teeth and mouth were thoroughly brushed and washed after eating the caramel, the sugar concentration in the saliva dropped to zero.

These scientists point out that trying to avoid tooth decay by avoiding sugars is impractical, since almost all starch foods produce sugar in the mouth. After a mixed meal, for example, it took 45 minutes before the sugar in the saliva practically disappeared.

Sweet Tooth

They conclude that if you have a sweet tooth and want to satisfy it you should use a toothbrush and mouth rinse immediately afterwards if you wish to avoid tooth decay.

But with so many ways by which children get sweets anytime in the day, it is not very practical to hope that they will always brush their teeth right away after taking a soft drink, ice-cream cone, chewing gum, cookie or piece of candy. Of course, if we can limit their consumption of sweets and most other foods to mealtime it would be easier to train them to brush their teeth at proper times.

It is obvious that the traditional ritual of brushing the teeth the first thing on rising in the morning and no more till the next morning, perhaps, has little sense to it. It were better for us and our children to brush the teeth after each meal and at bedtime.

Tots from one to five or six often have some sweets or a sandwich at bedtime—a bad practice for the teeth though a good one for making bedtime pleasant. It's not very practical to get the little tyke up to brush his teeth just when he is wooing the sandman.

Anyway, we had better not give up the toothbrush ourselves or have our children do so. Instead, we ought to cultviate in our children from early years good toothbrush habits after eating anything. Of course, some dental surgeons will say that too much brushing of the teeth can wear off the enamel. This objection can be met by choosing a soft brush. We should also go on getting our children to eat proper foods.

THE WELL DRESSED MAN

The males of most species are handsome to see,
They wear what they're born
with, whatever it be.
No change in the style they're permitted to know,
Their dress is the same as it was
years ago.
Only man is the drabbest of males on the farm,
With us it's the female who dresses for charm.

Now following nature the clothiers appear
Proclaiming that man will be gaudy this yaer.
Long enough without splendor
the old boy has stayed.
Now, in yellows and purples
they'll have him arrayed.
In a sport coat of scarlet he soon will be seen.
His shorts will be orchid; his shirts will be green.

He'll wear ties that dazzle, and wine-colored hose,
And perhaps to go with them a wine-colored nose.
Get ready you women to stand and admire.
The old boy has wearied of sombre attire.
He's out of the drab suits, the browns and the blacks.
He's about to look lovely in lavender slacks.

Washington Calling

British Elections No Satisfaction

WASHINGTON, Mar. 1.—The outcome of the British elections can give almost no one any satisfaction. The net result is that for the better part of this year Great Britain will have an insecure government suffering from semi-paralysis.

A few Repulicans and some southern Democrats seem to think this is a situation which can be exploited to push Socialism all the way out of the British picture. They are hinting that American aid should be held back to encourage the Conservatives still further when the inevitable next election comes up.

Dangerous Business

To undertake anything like that would be dangerous business. It would inject the issue of American aid and American partisanship much more sharply into the next contest. This might occur in such a way as to give the Laborites a definite advantage.

Administrator Paul Hoffman and Secretary of State Dean Acheson have asked for $2,950,000,000 in ECA aid for the coming fiscal year. Any sizeable cut in that amount would be likely to mean a proportionately greater cut in the allocation for Britain.

Britain is not in precisely a robust financial state at the moment. There are American officials who feel that, on the contrary, the condition is one of considerable delicacy. The patient has begun to improve since devaluation, but convalescence is almost entirely dependent on spoon-feeding from America.

Cause Unemployment

To slash the ECA aid by a third or a half would be likely to produce one immediate result—unemployment. In an election to be held in October or early November, the Labor party could blame that unemployment on the failure of America to live up to a prior commitment. The failures of the government itself would be glossed over.

With a healthy majority and a renewed confidence, a Labor government might have set out to cure the suppressed inflation and take off some of the strangling controls even though this might mean a sacrifice of some of the fruits of so-called full employment. A Conservative government with a workable majority of 40 to 60 seats would certainly have undertaken to reverse many of the trends of the past five years.

Now there can be only a pause until lines are re-enforced and the voters permitted a brief respite from oratory. The new election can scarcely be earlier than May or later than November. Unless Parliament takes action to revoke it, the act nationalizing the steel industry becomes law on January 1, 1951.

Possible Test Vote

If it were not so serious, there would be something almost comic in this spectacle of great people caught on a knife-edge of indecision. All the members of both major parties will have to spend most of their time in the House in readiness for a possible test vote. That will be distinctly uncomfortable, since the House chamber holds hardly more than half the total membership even with standees. The new chamber now under construction will be almost as limited, since the feeling has always been that a small chamber nearly filled has a better look than a large chamber almost empty.

In at least one constituency Coventry, so many voters appeared that the ballots were exhausted. Latecomers were told that they could petition the King for a new election because they were deprived of the privilege of voting. The incumbent, Richard Crossman, who has moved from the left wing of the Labor party to the center, squeezed through. The Conservative candidate, T. B. Meek exploded in wrath, saying the government seemed able to find all the paper in the world for ration books but they couldn't find enough for ballots.

Need Budget Agreement

The Labor government will have to get some agreement on a budget due at the end of March. That will probably be the most that can be achieved before a new trial of strength.

In a time of grave uncertainty, Britain will in effect have no government. Something like the same condition exists in France as a result of the narrow margin by which the Bidault regime has been getting by. And here in Washington, what with the guerrilla warfare waged by some Republicans and the long-standing battle between executive and legislature, we can scarcely say that we have a government capable of coping with the challenge of a divided world.

There may be some small consolation in the thought that a democracy can survive without a strong central government. The habit of responsibility and self-discipline will carry through. In a dictatorship without a powerful central government, the whole structure goes to smash. But in times like the present, that is cold comfort indeed.

It just goes to show the ingratitude of people . . . the British citizen has been given all manner of free services yet he seems to resent being taxed into the ground for them.

Comment in Washington is still restrained . . . Feeling seems to be that Conservatives, Laborites and Republicans don't interfere in our elections and we shouldn't interfere in theirs.

The way it looks now, the government will have to call another election within a few months or risk a vote of "no confidence" . . . that's one of the main differences in our election system.

Over here you don't need confidence after election . . . just before election.

Out Of The Sky

(By HOLMES ALEXANDER)

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 1.—After stunt-flying over the earth for a couple of years, a squadron of Flying Saucers landed at the National Airport, and the Saucer pilots were brought before a Senate committee for investigation. Since the Saucer pilots were utterly indescribable, each Senator felt free to view them with his mind's eye.

"As White House spokesman, said Senator Lucas, "I'm sure these creatures are those 'selfish interests' which the President keeps talking about but never produces. I propose that we tether them on the White House lawn where the President can point the finger of scorn during his next press conference."

"You're taking a partisan view of the case, Scott," said Senator Taft. "Anybody can see that these Saucer pilots, which are transparent, represent all those Democratic candidates who're scared to run against me in Ohio. I insist that we give each a name—Governor Lausche, Murray Lincoln. . . ."

"Hold Everything Bob"

"Hold everything, Bob," broke in Senator McCarthy. "Let me count 'em. Fifty-five, 56, 57 . . . yes, I have it. Why, these Saucer pilots are those 57 Commies who, I charged, were in the State Department. Boy, am I glad they came along to take me off that hook!"

"You fellows must be myopic," declared Senator Brewster. "Anybody with a sense of value can perceive that these Saucer pilots are nothing but Maine potatoes. I demand that the Department of Agriculture buy them up at parity prices and pay my constituents for planting them."

"Tut, tut," said Senator McCarran. "Whatever else these creatures may be, they're certainly Displaced Persons, and have no right here under the immigration quota. For all we know they may have unusual talents or something equally un-American. They must be deported at once—before we find out anything good about them."

Suddenly to the senatorial astonishment, one of the Saucer pilots spoke up:

"There's been a mistake here," said this Saucer pilot. "We're not the ones under investigation. You gentlemen are."

"What?" cried the Senators. "Us?"

"That's right," said the Saucer pilot. "My buddies and I have been flying over earth and trying to make out what goes on here. Well, Senators, what does go on? What do you do to earn your salaries and all those prerogatives?"

How They Earn Salaries

That's easy," said Senator Byrd. "Several times a year I eloquently announce that the budget is unbalanced. Considering that my whole duty, I seldom bother to attend committee meetings or to bend my excellent mind to other dull tasks."

"As minority floor leader," said Senator Wherry, "I earn my salary by needling Scott Lucas here. Last year with the help of the Dixiecrats, I mowed him down with an attack of ulcers."

"Since my ill-fated adventure with Henry Wallace," spoke up Senator Taylor, "I've devoted my energies to getting back in the good graces of the party leadership, so's to win re-election this year."

Senator after Senator thus attempted to justify his existence in the Senate. Some of them got away with it, but many looked pretty foolish when baring their petty politics and personality quirks to creatures from Another World.

"After all," said the Saucer pilot when the investigation ended, "you gentlemen are the Upper Chamber of the Greatest Nation in the only world you know. No wonder the coal miners are defying the Law, the Government is destroying food, the scientists are inventing Hell-Bombs and the Commies are inheriting the earth. How much all-told did you say the American people shell out for their government?"

"Over $40 billion a year," chorused the Senators.

"Well, they're getting cheated," said the Saucer pilot, and nobody there disputed this plain statement of fact.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Several times my editors have asked me to keep away from politics.

"Leave that to Sokolsky," they said, "to Pegler, to Lippmann, and the dozens of others who know much more about the ins and outs of politics than you do.

"You keep on looking at life and trying to give your readers something that will convince them that life is still worth living."

It was not an order, of course, just a suggestion.

This being a free press, editors don't tell us what to write about. They just suggest.

Usually I agree with them.

This time I don't.

One of the troubles with our country is that politics is considered something apart from our lives.

It is not.

It is as much a part of our lives as eating, sleeping going to church.

Let our politics be corrupt or inefficient and what will happen?

There won't be much to eat. There won't be any decent place to sleep. Taxes will be so high that there won't be enough money left for anything else. Rents will be beyond our means. People won't be able to buy homes.

And with evil politics—as you can plainly see any day in Soviet-ruled Europe—you certainly won't be permitted to go to any church you choose, or go to church at all.

Unfortunately the world "politics" has taken on something of an unpleasant odor.

"He's a politician" has come to be a derogatory remark.

The everyday citizen, if someone calls him a politician, is almost tempted to say "Smile, when you say that."

Too many people mistake participating in politics for "playing politics." Too many people think of a politician as a drone, an opportunist, something that can be bought.

In a recent speech George Sokolsky, whom I consider one of the country's smartest interpreters of the political scene, said that whatever happens to this country is caused by YOU and Me.

WE, the people, fortunately still have the power to seat and unseat our officials.

How long we will retain that power depends on the American concepts which Abraham Lincoln laid down so plainly, so simply and so truly for us.

Abraham Lincoln is still being quoted as a convenient source of synthetic fervor by orators; particularly in the month of February.

But what a far, far cry from the idealistic America of Lincoln's day to the let-the-other-fellow-do-it attitude of much of our modern citizenry.

I talked to two prominent men, one a Republican, the other a Democrat. Both were dissatisfied with the way things are going.

"Well, why don't you go into politics and do something about it?" I asked.

"H--- no," said both of them, "we are too busy."

If enough good people say "H--- no," we'll all go to H---!

What Do You Pay For In Coffee?

Two Squads of our Boscul Flavor Patrol!

HOME GUARD—Constantly on guard to check Boscul for uniform perfection and for merit against other leading coffees, these "tasters" in our Boscul organization are those proven to have extra sensitive taste buds, trained to capture the most delicate shading of what you pay for in your coffee.

VISITING FIREMEN—is part of our independent research organization's work of comparing Boscul coffee for flavor and uniformity by actual taste among consumers who love coffee. Gallant fire-eaters shown here (recently featured in a leading national weekly) are a famous headquarters Rescue Squadron who recently participated in such tests. Results gratifyingly show the ability of people everywhere to select and appreciate Boscul's finer flavor. You will too!

Boscul Tea Time Is Here To Stay!

More and more Americans are finding that the gentle pick-up and relaxing lift of tea are wonderful assets late in the afternoon and at bed-time when tension claims most victims.

Why not try Boscul Tea or Tea Paks for such times? You'll find its choice blend of flavor every bit as outstanding as Boscul coffee. Men like its redolence and "body!" Remember—tea relaxes . . . and Boscul is the best tea you can buy.

Some Rules For Coffee Economy and Extra Flavor

Since you're paying more for coffee, you'll want to get every bit of flavor and goodness from it, as well as as many cups possible. Here are some tips. If you follow them, perfect Boscul will cost you less than 2¢ a cup!

- Measure coffee and water accurately.
- Use fresh water from the cold water faucet.
- Serve quickly when ready.
- Stick to the exact time needed for perfect results.
- Never boil coffee.
- Keep coffee maker clean.
- Scald coffee maker before using.
- Never allow cloth filters to become dry. Never use soap to wash them. Keep immersed in cold water.

. . . THAT MAKES YOU SAY "THE BEST I'VE EVER TASTED!"

Coffee—the most exotic, romantic and satisfying note of cheer on your table—is also one of the strangest products you purchase regularly. Had you thought of that?

What else do you buy by the pound—consume what you paid for—and throw away more than you purchased?

What is it, combined with boiling water (but never to be boiled itself) that gives you such pleasing comfort and gentle stimulation? What exactly do you pay for? Has it a name?

Yes. Caffeol is the principal volatile essence in coffee responsible for flavor and aroma.

What makes coffee-blending an art and science of first order is that this substance is extremely volatile. From the bean on the bush to your own coffee-pot, great care must be exercised every step of the way both to obtain and retain the fullest amount of this wonderful flavor ingredient, combined with the body or "strength" elements. That means care in selecting, shipping and storage. Care in roasting, blending, grinding, packing!

With 119 years of progressive experience in handling these tempermental little objects, coffee beans, to give you the most of what you pay for, Boscul has probably developed more safeguards for "the unseen ingredient"—the one you taste and smell and appreciate than possibly any other master blender.

So since you really aren't buying or drinking "a pound of coffee"—but the number of cups of deliciously fragrant satisfaction contained in that pound, your course should be clear.

One whiff of your first can of Boscul should convince you that "more flavor to the cup, more cups to the pound," makes the most economical coffee investment you can make today.

- more flavor to the cup
- more cups to the pound

THOUSANDS SAY CERTA-VIN WORKS INCHES OF BLOAT OUT OF UPSET STOMACHS

Great Compound Has Astounding Action on Swollen, Gassy Stomach Organs and Supplies Body With Essential Vitamin B and Iron

At the present time the sale of Certa-Vin, here in the city of New Castle and general section, stands at the highest point in ITS HISTORY! Leading druggists are amazed at this immense demand and say that nothing like it has ever been seen here before. However, this great sale is all due to one thing, that is, the astounding action of this remarkable medicine upon the stomach. It is the great relief it brings which causes crowds to flock in for Certa-Vin wherever it is introduced.

AWFUL BLOATING

For instance, consider the amazing action of Certa-Vin in cases of gassy stomach. This is a condition that afflicts thousands. And it is a horrible condition, as any of its poor victims will tell you! Many people are so bad off they can't go to the finest restaurant and eat a meal—can't even eat the most wholesome of home-cooked food!—without being in misery afterward. They bloat and swell until they can HARDLY BREATHE. Heart palpitates wildly from gas pressure. They belch up a horrible sour substance, known as "water brash". Sometimes this terrible "water brash" rises into throat and mouth like a regular fountain. So bitter it almost causes STRANGULATION. Awful gas pains come in stomach and chest. The abdomen sometimes feels sore CONSTANTLY from continual gas and bloat pressure. And all night long this misery continues, so sleep is next to impossible. Some poor sufferers feel like they are about to smother every time they lie down in bed to try to sleep. They have to rise up to get their breath back. Others have such awful gas pains in chest they can't lie on EITHER SIDE. So all night long they suffer.

AMAZING RELIEF

Truthfully it can be said, as it has been said so often: "No greater misery hath any man than he with an upset stomach!" And that is why so many people are praising CERTA-VIN. This "Amazing New Medicine" is helping thousands of sufferers such as we have described above. It helps work that awful gas and bloat out of you, reducing your gas-swollen waistline—often by inches!—in a few days' time! (Read actual statements accompanying this announcement.) Then your awful gas pains, breathless smothering, wild heart palpitation from gas are relieved. You can sleep! You can eat! You can begin to feel like SOME OTHER PERSON!

Some of the leading druggists of this city say no medicine in history has ever been so widely endorsed as Certa-Vin. Published below are JUST A FEW of the many statements received here about this "Amazing New Medicine":

WAIST REDUCED 7 INCHES

"Certa-Vin worked so much gas and bloat from me that my waistline has gone down seven inches. Now I feel fine."

OH, WHAT RELIEF!

"I swelled with gas until I could hardly breathe. Couldn't sleep, in fact had horrible nights. Then I got Certa-Vin. Oh! What relief! It worked so much gas from me that my stomach reduced 4 inches. Can breathe freely now. Can sleep soundly.

INCHES OF GAS GOES

"Was so full of gas I was afraid I'd burst. Sour bitter substance rose up in my throat from my upset stomach after meals. I got Certa-Vin, and it worked inches of gas and bloat from me. Waistline is way down now. Meals are a pleasure. I praise Certa-Vin to the sky."

VITAMIN B AND IRON

And Certa-Vin not only relieves gassy stomachs. It does FAR MORE! Remember—this is an astounding medicine of over 10 INGREDIENTS. So it accomplishes several things inside you all at once. It gives your body a supply of Vitamin B and Iron; thus it tones your system, builds red blood cells and gives you renewed energy. Weak, miserable people often feel like different men and women in a few days time.

REASONABLE PRICE

The cost of CERTA-VIN is reasonable. In every market where it is introduced, it quickly becomes the fastest-selling medicine in that city. It does this almost without exception. As a result of this large sales volume, we are able to sell you Certa-Vin at a reasonable price. Despite its many costly ingredients, you can actually take this amazing medicine for just a few cents per day. So don't go on suffering. Go to the drug store—NOW—and get Certa-Vin.

Fashion Show Feature Of P.T.A. Meeting

Navy blue and chocolate brown hold the limelight as the leading colors of the current spring fashions. Fashion designers seem to have captured some of spring's gaiety in their creations, and the result is one of the most exciting and colorful collection of clothes for many a season.

This was in evidence on Tuesday evening when the Rose Avenue P. T. A. held a fashion show at the school auditorium, with a large crowd of fashion-conscious men and women present.

To the tune of "Paper Doll", a sweet demure young Miss stepped out in her navy blue coat, styled like that of an older girl's with its full back. With it she wore a saucy white straw sailor hat. A rustling taffeta dress of light blue was viewed upon removal of her coat.

Styles For Youth

Another navy blue gabardine coat was featured with a dainty bertha collar of white pique. Polka dot collar and cuffs trimmed a shortie coat of navy worn by a junior Miss. Tiny folks like clothes fashioned in the style of "older sister's". This was evidenced by the plaid and checked suits modeled as last night's show. A blue and white checked skirt was combined with a chic red jacket and natural straw bonnet, the result being a very attractive young Miss.

Young lads are not to be outdone by the tiny Misses, for they, too, are style conscious and know what clothes are suited for them. One young man sported a skipper blue double-breasted gabardine suit. With it he chose the new inner-outer sport shirt in a hormonizing maize color.

Ladies' fashions are reminiscent of the twenties with its decolletages, sailor and head hugging hats, and draped skirts. Versatility is presented in the new spring fashions, with gabardine as the leading cloth for suits and coats. One particularly lovely costume was a gray sheen gabardine fitted coat, worn with a black Swiss straw profile calot. The model was attired in a stunning "after five" rayon crepe dress of a red and black print.

These are just a few of the ideas of what can be seen in the spring fashion picture. In conjunction with Founder's Day, Mrs. Wesley Mann, program chairman, appeared in a quaint black dress of the '80's. She gave an interesting account of the founding of the Parent-Teacher Association, telling of how two women organized the first unit, with membership growing to the present national figure of five million. To give the audience a glimpse of the fashions in 1897, Mrs. Samuel Rashid, Mrs. William McKee, and Miss Lucille Lutton modeled gowns with the long sleeves and bustle backs of the day.

Appreciation was expressed to past presidents of the unit, with four ladies present who have held the office. Mrs. Mann then introduced Mrs. M. R. Bates, Mrs. G. W. Thomas, Mrs. C. R. Brenner and Mrs. Irwin. A founder's day birthday cake was awarded to Mrs. Elmer Swartzlander. This cake was donated by Mrs. Thomas Booher.

Well Planned Program

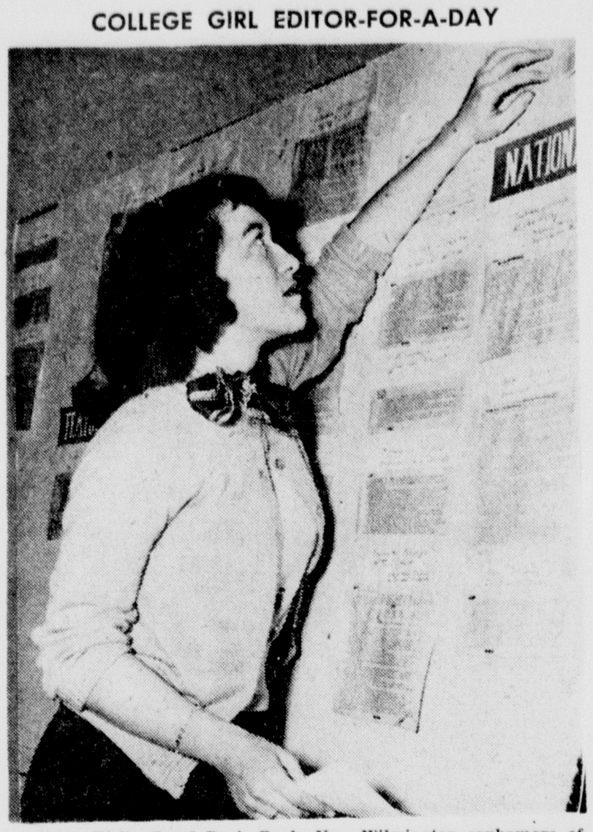

Success of the well-planned program was due to the efforts of the general chairman of the evening, Mrs. Harry Davis. Her committee consisted of Mrs. Ray Good, with Miss Ada Hillia and Mrs. Ernest King aiding.

The clever stage background and decorations were under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Booher. Bernard Thompson provided the appropriate music for the models. Max Stadfeld, narrator, was capably assisted by Mrs. Stadfeld in writing the unusual script and taking care of the clothing. These clothes were donated by a local merchant, while the Pennsylvania Power Company gave the P. A. system which was installed by Ray Good.

Models were Linda Zubkowski, Jack Bixler, Sally O'Neil, Mrs. Sam Rashid, Bobby Mason, Jean Kerr, David May, Winifred Shaffer, Carol Baldwin, Eddie Prosser, Carolyn Matthews, Mrs. Harry Mack, Terry Mumford, Carol Sarbo, Richard Scungio, Miss Laura Blucher, Kathy McCann, Kenneth Carr, Bonnie Blews, Mrs. Lewis Mooney, Anthony Staph, Wilda Rowe, Mrs. A. Pezone, Jean Tucker, Robert Stoner, Larry Scheidemantle, Miss Lucille Lutton, Betty Jane Sylvester, James Eckelberger, Shirley Knopka, Peter Rozzi, and Carolyn Zuchowski.

Pittsburgh Coal Co. Reduces Dividend And Cuts Salaries

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 1.—(INS)—The Pittsburgh Consolidated Coal Company on Tuesday cut its quarterly dividend payment and reduced salaries from 20 to 5 per cent to "fortify" the company against the mine union's demands.

The salary cuts range from 20 per cent in the higher brackets to five per cent in the lower brackets. The dividend cut is from 75 cents to 50 cents.

President George H. Love, who returned from negotiations in Washington to attend a meeting of the board of directors, said:

"These moves were made to fortify the company in its determination to maintain production at low cost and to resist the demands of the United Mine Workers to force on the industry a policy of scarcity which would result in unreasonably high prices to the public, and which is also a policy which has had such disastrous effects on the coal industry in European countries.' '

Love pointed out that most Pittsburgh Consolidation mines have been operated only two days in the last two months, and that the company has suffered "substantial" losses since Jan. 1.

Love returned to Washington to be on hand for any further negotiations.

The three greatest fishing grounds in the world are off the coasts of Europe, northeastern North America and northeastern Asia.

Providing For Atomic Bombs Mass Delivery

By DARRELL GARWOOD
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 1.—The air force's big air-refueling program to double the range of B-29 bombers provides today the immediate means for mass delivery of atomic bombs almost anywhere in the world.

The program also carried the implication that a potential enemy could use the refueling method in bombing the U. S. the Soviets are known to have a plane equalling the B-29.

The Defense department disclosed that 20-plane squadrons of B-29 tankers have been assigned to each of nine heavy bomber groups.

Number Increased

At the same time, the number of B-29 and B-50 bombers per group is increased from 30 to 45, bringing a group's total planes to 65 including tankers. The B-50 is a postwar improvement on the heavy-gunned Super Fortress.

These planes have a range of "more than 2,00 miles," but could deliver bombs at 4,000 miles and return if they were refueled twice by tankers.

Tankers would accompany them for the first 1,000 miles, and then rendevous with them at the same spot on their return. Refueling is done with a hose connection in the air.

The air force has intensively trained tanker crews in the method since the "Lucky Lady II" flew non-stop around the world with four air refuelings last March.

Mass Bomb Delivery

Defense officials said this would be one means of mass delivery of the A-bomb at "inter-continental distances" if necessary before the larger B-36 bombers are available in quantity.

At the present rate of construction, the U. S. will not have three B-36 bomber groups earlier than July 1, 1951, and will not complete the B-36 building program until sometime in 1952 or 1953.

If a Soviet plane were refueled twice over Arctic wastes, it theoretically could bomb any part of the U. S. and get back to a Russian base.

This has not yet been declared practical. The U. S. move in adopting refueling on a large scale, however, was taken to mean that the method has been fully tested at least for many types of missions.

The increase in the number of bombers per group was described by a defense official as a concession to the B-29's age. More than 3,000 of these planes, which delivered the first atom bombs, were built during the war.

As the planes get older, larger percentages of them are laid up in shops for servicing and repairs.

The citron is one of the oledst fruits known to man, and is mentioned in the early part of the Bible.

Physician Is Day's Witness

Doctor Who Started Legal Action Called

MANCHESTER, N. H., March 1. (INS)—The physician who started legal action against Dr. Hermann N. Sander takes the stand today at the mercey-murder trial.

He is Dr. Robert E. Biron, medical referee of Hillsborough county, who questioned Dr. Sander on December 29 regarding the death on December 4 of his cancer patient, 59-year-old Mrs. Abbie C. Borroto.

Dr. Biron didn't think the air-needling of Mrs. Barroto was legal, and he summoned the authorities to the Hillsborough County General hospital to talk to Sander. Dr. Sander's arrest followed quickly.

The Biron-Sander conversation occurred in the office of the record librarian of the hospital on the 29th when the month-end records were being compiled.

The librarian, Miss Josephine Connor, showed Dr. Biron the official record on the Borroto case—and Biron immediately called upon Dr. Sander for an axplanation.

Senate Seeks To Unsnarl Surplus Crop Farm Problem

WASHINGTON, March 1. — (INS)—The U. S. Senate is getting woundup tight in its efforts to unsnarl the current surplus farm crop problem.

Debate continues to rage over what is the best thing to do and who says it is the best thing and why he says it is and so on.

One of the highlights of the current session is the refusal of the Senate to recommend lower price supports for basic commodities this year.

The proposal would have repealed as soon as it became law the 90 per cent basic price support formula. These crops would instead be subject to a "flexible," or lower formula which is to go into effect in 1952.

The rejected proposal was assailed bitterly by Sen. Elder Thomas (D) Okla., who said senators from the eastern states were trying to force down farm prices. He said the proposal would push the nation into a depression.

And on the potato front—the Senate, by a 64-14 vote, approved a measure which would cut off support prices for 1951 Irish potatoes if there are no quotas.

An attempt to ban all potato imports in the event of U. S. surpluses was killed, 45 to 31.

That measure, offered by Senate Minority Leader Wherry (R) Neb., was beaten down on objections it would be a "slap in the face" to Canada, main exporter of spuds to the U. S.

The Agriculture department wants to make a national survey of rural family living expenses—but chances for such a survey seem slim. The department's Bureau of Human Nutrition and Home Economics asked a House appropriations subcommittee to appropriate $365,000 for that purpose this year and said it would need about the same next year.

The bureau's spokesman said it planned to make the survey at the same time the Bureau of Labor Statistics is going to make a similar poll of city folk.

Rep. H. Carl Andersen (R) Minn., wanted to know whether the bureau planned such a survey just because the labor statistics unit was doing one.

He also said:

"I am just wondering if that was not the genesis of your thinking, that perhaps this would be a good field to enter so that you could come to Congress and ask for an additional $365,000. I am getting pretty blunt but that is the way it strikes me."

The department reports that farmers put more than 751 million bushels of 1949 crop grain and oilseeds under the government's price support shelter this year through January.

During a similar period last year, almost 628 million bushels of such crops were placed in the support program.

Crawford Co. Leads State In Dairy Farms

HARRISBURG — Crawford county leads all others in Pennsylvania in the number of dairy farms, the State Department of Agriculture reports.

There are 40,989 farms in Pennsylvania where dairymen, as of January 1, 1950, maintained a record number of 1,020,000 cows and heifers two years old and older, kept for milk production.

The leading dairy county of Crawford has 2,175 dairy farms which represent 40.8 per cent of all farms in the county, according to latest agricultural census reports. Bradford county is a close second in number of dairy farms but heads Crawford in the percentage of farms that are classified as dairy farms, approximately 53 per cent producing milk. In Susquehanna county, 1,664 or 60.8 per cent of the farms are dairy farms, giving that county third place in the number of such farms. Fourth is Wayne county, with 1,532 dairy farms representing 62.8 per cent of all farms in the county. Chester is fifth with 1,450 or 34.8 per cent dairy farms.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

His Own Knife and Fork.

Almost 20 years ago when a child was getting to the stage of "I want to feed myself," the eating utensils available for him were just cut-down grownups's knives, forks and spoons. These were ill-fitted to the child's abilities. They were hard to hold and often had much-to-sharp edges for the awkward jabs that at first made up the youngster's attempts at feeding himself. They made eating unnecessarily difficult.

Today there are much more appropriate utensils and dishes for the young child. One can find straight, broadhandled, wide-mouthed, shallow spoons, foreshortened so that they can be put in the mouth sidewise. Forks have blunt tines and almost the same general shape as the spoons. Good, wide handles are to be found on cups. These make it possible for the child to hold a nearly full cup without the handle turning in his hand. Plates are bowl-shaped with good uphill edges so that food is easily "cornered."

All of these changes make it much more likely that a child can feed himself without getting upset because it is so difficult. They make a real contribution to the growing independence that is good for youngsters. Since, however, there are still old-type utensils and dishes on the market for children, parents should exercise care when buying and see to it that the self-help type are provided.

Says Lewis' Agents Instructed Miners To Disregard Orders

BALTIMORE, Mar. 1.—(INS)—A coal industry spokesman on Tuesday accused John L. Lewis of sending "henchmen" into the field to order continued defiance of a federal court anti-strike injunction.

T. T. Rees, president of the Central West Virginia Coal Producers Association, asserted that Lewis' agents instructed the miners to disregard telegrams from the United Mine Workers president directing them to end the strike.

COMES TO LIFE

FORT ASHBY, Va.—Ray Funk brought down a deer with his car but he didn't make sure the animal was dead before retrieving the carcass. Funk packed the limp animal into the back trunk for delivery to conservation officers. When the back seat began breaking loose with a "terrible racket," Funk opened the compartment and released a much-alive deer.

SAFE DESERTERS

LONDON. — Britain's armed services know where 10,500 deserters are living but no hand can be laid on them. Investigation officers of the army, navy and air force say they went AWOL to Eire, where they are safe from arrest and punishment so long as they don't return to Britain. Exact addresses of many of them are known, but no action can be taken.

LETTERS TO THE NEWS

(Letters intended for this column must be signed with name and address of writer.)

New Castle, Pa.,
Feb. 28, 1950.

The New Castle News,

Neither the "Voters' League" nor is it likely anyone else opposes a new detention home for Lawrence County. The question is the size of the home proposed by the commissioners with not only the large initial cost but the high cost of upkeep a large building entails.

Children's workers from counties much larger than Lawrence County say they rarely have as many as five children in detention at one time. Then why does Lawrence County need a home large enough to house twenty children at one time? Unless this is a misunderstanding, children are only to be placed in this home until disposition is made of their cases by the court.

Morley Callaghan was showing the sights of Montreal to a visiting Scotsman. When they passed the Cathedral, Callaghan doffed his hat, and the Scotsman followed suit. "I thought you were a Presbyterian," remarked Callaghan. "It was courteous of you to take off your hat when we went by the Cathedral." "Cathedral!" exclaimed the Scotsman. "Mon, I thought it was the Bank of Montreal."

"There certainly were some sharks around the pool room in Chicago when I was a boy," recalls Ralph Henry, of Carson, Pirie and Scott. "One time a fly deposited himself right on the top of the eight ball and our local champ casually remarked, "Watch me kill him." We expected him to whack that fly with his cue, but no sir; he chalked the cue, waggled it a bit, and then shot the eight ball from under the fly so fast it fell on the table and broke its back."

Declare 40,000 Miners Would Return To Work

WASHINGTON, March 1—(INS)—The West Virginia Chamber of Commerce told the government that 40,000 miners in the state would return to work promptly if given protection from "armed bands of union members".

The organization asked Attorney General McGrath in a telegram for federal protection for the miners who want to work and said that Judge Richmond B. Keech's no-strike order "has not even been treated with respectable contempt".

H. A. Stansbury, managing director of the group, charged that United Mine Workers are practicing "unrestrained assault and intimidation" on about 10,000 miners who are still at work in West Virginia. He added:

"In our considered judgment at least 40,000 more of our citizens would promptly return to their task of producing coal if any substantial measure of protection or dependable promise of such protection was now being provided aganist these armed bands of union members by the enforcement agencies of the federal government."

NEW CHICK RECORD

HARRISBURG, March 1.—Baby chick hatcheries of Pennsylvania set a new production record of 6,580,000 chicks for January, but a large part of the increase is due to expanded production of chicks for broilers, according to federal-state surveys announced by the State Department of Agriculture. The previous January record was 5,310,000.

Secret Report On Red Infiltration Through D.P. Program

WASHINGTON, Mar. 1.—(INS)—Sen. McCarran (D) Nev., said Tuesday that the Army has given the state department a secret report on Communism infiltration into the United States through the displaced persons program.

McCarran told the Senate that the report "contains vast information respecting fraudulent practices in the admission of displaced person."

Speaking in behalf of his judiciary committee's bill providing for rigid screening on DP's who enter this country, McCarran said:

"A certain branch of the Army prepared and filed with the state department a detailed report containing information as to the penetration of Soviet agents into the United States under the guise of displaced persons."

McCarran said that the report is classified as "confidential" and can not be made public.

The eye is 16 times more sensitive to impression than the ear.

Strip Mining Association Demands State Protection

PHILIPSBURG, Pa., March 1.—(INS)—The Central Pennsylvania Open Strip Mining Association today warned Gov. James H. Duff of "civil war" in the bituminous fields if miners willing to work are not protected from "dynamiters and arsonists".

Duff and President Truman were accused by Secretary G. Albert Stewart of allowing "political ambitions" to overshadow their duty to halt what he called the "reign of terror and lawlessness as exists in the soft coal fields today".

Stewart, secretary of forests and waters in the James administration, told Duff that more than 1,000 open pits in Pennsylvania are capable of producing each month more than 1,000,000 tons of soft coal which could be used to alleviate fuel shortages stemming from the United Mine Workers' strike in bituminous workings.

Coal Could Be Used

In a telegram to the governor, Stewart assailed Duff for only referring the matter to the state police instead of ordering action to "apprehend arsonists, dynamiters and assaulters of coal-carrying trucks on the public highways".

The coal, Stewart said, could be used to heat homes, hospitals, schools, churches and provide other essential humanitarian services.

"Perhaps," said Stewart, "if President Truman and Governor Duff were less interested in political advantage and political ambitions there would be no such reign of terror and lawlessness as exists in the soft coal fields today.

"Surely, had the processes of national law been invoked earlier, as they are now invoked, to bring warring antagonists to the bargaining table, and had the full authority of the commonwealth been invoked at the first outbreak of highway blocking and assaults, and to run down dynamiters and arsonists, the rights of men would not be trampled down as they are today," he declared.

These Would Work

Stewart's telegram told the governor that practically 100 per cent of the workers in the open pits and the truckers who haul coal to railroad cars and markets are not parties to UMWA negotiations.

"These workers wish to, and would work," the telegram stated, "if assured unblocked highways and the protection of the law for themselves and families in their lawful pursuits.

"Surely the great commonwealth of Pennsylvania is not powerless to halt brutal assaults on lawful users of public highways, or to stop the continuing dynamiting and burning of equipment and buildings which since the reign of terror began last fall has taken a toll of no less than a half million dollars in damage, and tragically, without a single culprit being apprehended and brought to justice.

Not Using Strike Breakers

"This is not a case where employers are using strike breakers or trying to break a union. It is a case of thousands of American workers, satisfied with wages and working conditions, insistent on their right to work. The press informs us that many of these men are arming themselves for self protection in their determination to continue working. Little wonder after such occurrences as in Jefferson county and at other points yesterday.

"Only the strong arm of the law of the commonwealth can avert civil war. It is recognized that picketing is a legal right, that it is legally defined. There is no disposition to interfere with those rights. All these workers ask is that our public highways be opened and freed from villains who lurk in hiding places to stone trucks, assault and brutally beat drivers, dump cargoes; that dynamiters and arsonists be vigorously hunted down, and that examples be made of those who threaten men, women and children with bodily injuries and home burnings."

Patronage System Reported As Health Dept. Handicap

By ED HAUCK
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 1.—The State Department today is experiencing difficulty in recruiting top grade personnel because many appointees must secure political sponsorship and be residents of Pennsylvania.

These accusations were made via an editorial in the Pennsylvania Medical Journal.

According to the Journal, a survey conducted two years ago by the American Public Health Association of administrative inequities has not prompted any changes.

The survey, sanctioned by Health Secretary Norris W. Vaux, and Gov. James H. Duff, was critical of operations. The Journal is published by the Medical Society of Pennsylvania.

Under Patronage System

"About 90 percent of the workers are selected under the patronage system and 10 percent under the merit system," the editorial disclosed.

"The Civil Service Commission's approval of the merit system appointment must be followed by sponsorship by the proper party official either prior to or shortly after the appointment."

Once employes are on the job, they must be responsored periodically to cement their jobs. As a result they are subject to call for political campaign work and must make financial contributions, despite the Anti-Macing Act of 1939, the Journal declared.

"It is virtually impossible to remove a sponsored individual once he is on the job, no matter how poor his work is, so long as he maintains contact with his party sponsor," the editorial stated.

The Journal claimed it is not desirable now for the health department to operate a merit system through the present civil service act.

Seek Merit System

The American Public Health Association urged the department to seek legislation which would provide the merit system for the entire department .

According to the Journal, the association has asked the health department to make a reclassification study of all positions. This would develop uniformity, consistency and conformity with modern standards.

The prevalance of inadequate salaries in the health department should be adjusted temporarily until a more comprehensive study of the situation is made, the Journal suggested.

To correct the ills of unqualified personnel administering laws affecting the health of the entire state, the editorial asserts the need for an advisory act that would permit nation-wide recruiting of trained and experienced personnel.

The act should stipulate positions would be secured strictly on merit.

"Public health in Pennsylvania will be effective and worthwhile only so far as the quality of the workers in public health permit it to be," the Journal stated.

"The official public health agency in the state cannot afford not to have a program of personnel administration which will provide it with the best qualified health workers available," the Journal asserted.

Initiate Large Class By Legion

Perry S. Gaston post met in the Legion Home, North Jefferson street Tuesday evening for the purpose of initiating a large class of candidates. Commander Earl C. Moffatt was in the chair.

The formal degree team initiated a large class of candidate as members of the American Legion. The degree team was composed of William Glitch, Harold Walker, E. Gene Schweinsberg, Jerry Potter, Ralph Hays and Andy Harcar.

Chester Sweesy was named trustee to fill the unexpired term of a member who moved away from the city. It was announced that the Legion had assisted in filling out 2,000 bonus application blanks with assistance of the students at the New Castle Busisess College.

G. Crawford Lyon president of the Business College and Mrs. Dorothy Boyle, department head were special guests and were given gifts on behalf of the Legion. The young men who participated in the filling out of the blanks were also introduced and given token of remembrance from the Legion.

A letter was read from Gomer Emery, chairman of the bonus committee who is presently in Harrisburg, aiding in bonus work. He sent a letter of congratulations and thanks for the work done here.

The members authorized the sponsorship by the Legion of an air explorers scout troop for young men 14 years and older. Thomas McCormick was named chairman of the project. It was announced that the local Legion had contributed to the heart campaign, polio and Red Cross campaigns. The group also co-sponsored the essay contest in the schools.

The next meeting is planned for March 14 at the Legion Home, with a speaker and pictures.

There is a point in the eye known as the "blind spot", from which a person cannot see. It is where the optic nerves enter the retina, and where there are almost no sensitive cells. Under normal vision, this does not affect a person, but it may be made apparent by looking at objects in a certain way.

Court House

Registration Closes March 25

Few Voters Register In The Past Month

Unless a sudden rush of registration begins soon, the total registered vote for the primary on May 16 will be about the same as it was last November.

Registration for the primary election closes March 25, after which the books will close to prepare voters' lists for candidates.

It is unlikely there will be any special registration days for the primary, hence the necessity of getting to the court house to register before March 25.

Pleads Innocent To Tax Evasion

PHILADELPHIA, March 1.—(INS)—Herbert C. Kreider, 45, of (Kenhorst Blvd) Reading, pleaded innocent in U. S. district court Tuesday to charges of income tax evasion.

Kreider is accused of evading payment of $162,162.03 on an income of $279,258.14 from 1944 through 1947.

Revenue agents, who have described Kreider as the "slot machine king" of Reading, allege that he derived most of the income from the rental of slot machines to clubs, taverns, road houses and other places in Reading.

Judge George A. Welsh said the trial date will be set later. Kreider is currently free in $1,000 bail. He was indicted last Aug. 29.

Suggests Procedure To Conserve Coal

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 28.—(INS)—Pittsburgh's smoke prevention bureau suggests the following procedure to conserve coal in your home.

1. Keep the firebox filled and maintain a simmering fire. But don't poke or the coal will burn both rapidly and inefficiently.

2. Isolate all rooms not in use.

3. Caution your children not to run in and out of the house any more than is necessary. Opening doors wastes a lot of heat.

4. Draw window drapes when possible. During the night, if you like to open a bedroom window, make certain the door and register are closed.

5. If your front door opens directly into the living room, use the rear door, as much as possible, in leaving and entering the home. Then, some of the cold air will go to the basement.

Big Shovel Operator Has Perfect Control Of Huge Steel Ball

Some folks get paid for having fun.

Consider the case of Wayne Hemminger, the steam shovel operator for Mooney Brothers who has been engaged in knocking down the remnants of walls in the Clendenin Building.

Mr. Hemminger has a 2400 pound steel ball on a long cable which swings from the boom of the shovel.

He raises the ball high in the air and then socks it against the side of the wall, boom like that. As a kid he probably thought what a lot of fun it would be to knock over a building or two and now he gets paid for it.

The man is an artist with the equipment. He can bang it against a wall with sufficient weight to knock over a couple of tons of bricks. Or he can set it down on the street as though it were a crate of eggs. He probably could crack a pecan with it without crushing the meat.

Some football scouts have been in the gallery of sidewalk superintendents on Mercer street and any day now Hemminger may get an offer from a coach to bring his wrecking ball to college with him and try out for a fullback spot.

The capitol building in Washington, D. C., covers approximately three and one-half acres.

Presbyterian Moderator To Speak Friday

DR. C. E. BARBOUR

Dr. Clifford Edward Barbour, Moderator of the Presbyterian church, U. S. A., will speak at a dinner meeting for Shenango Chapter of the National Council of Presbyterian Laymen Friday evening, March 3, at 6:30 o'clock in First Presbyterian church, North Jefferson street. Three hundred men are expected at the dinner. Later, Dr. Barbour will speak at a meeting open to the public at 8 o'clock in the local church auditorium.

Dr. Barbour, pastor of Second Presbyterian church, Knoxville, Tenn., was elected Moderator of the 161st General Assembly of the Presbyterian church, U. S. A., at Buffalo, May 19, 1949. Serving as Moderator is the highest honorary office in thhe church.

Pitt Graduate

Dr. Barbour was born in Pittsburgh, January 26, 1895. He was graduated from the University of Pittsburgh with the A. B. degree in 1921 and from Western Theological Seminary, Pittsburgh, with the Master of Theology degree in 1922. In 1928 he received the Ph. D. degree from the University of Edinburgh, Scotland. After being ordained to the ministry in 1922, the degree of Doctor of Divinity was conferred upon him by Maryville college, Tenn., in 1935. The degree of Doctor of Laws was conferred upon him by Waynesburg college, Pa., in June, 1949.

In 1922 Dr. Barbour married Laura Hathaway Nye Taber, who was killed in an airplane crash in 1946. Despite this tragedy and the hardship of using crutches on account of having had infantile paralysis, Dr. Barbour is noted for his cheerful disposition. He has a host of friends and acquaintances in the Presbyterian church, U. S. A.

In listing items needed to be emphasized the coming year, Dr. Barbour places the steps for a definite union between the Presbyterian U. S. A. and U. S. churches at the head of the list.

When Dr. Barbour was called as pastor of Second church, Knoxville, in 1928, the church had a membership of 880, growing to more than 1,521 under his leadership.

William Pritchard To Be 93 On Friday

On Friday, March 3, William Pritchard, who resides with his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Lawton of 1501 East Washington street, will observe his ninety-third birthday anniversary.

The veteran Welshman was employed for many years as a pickler at the former New Castle works of the United States Steel company here. He expects to attend the St. David's Day banquet in honor of the Welsh patron saint, to be held on Mr. Pritchard's birthday on Friday at the First U. P. church.

Another Cut In Rail Service Now Looming

WASHINGTON, Mar. 1.—(INS)—J. Monroe Johnson, Chairman of the Interstate Commerce Commission, said today that another cut of 10 to 15 percent in coal-burning railroad operations may be ordered soon.

Such an order would further curtail freight and passenger service, which already has been sharply reduced because of the coal strike.

Johnson advised a House Interstate and Foreign Commerce subcommittee that a decision on further cuts awaits completion of a survey of railroad coal stocks.

The ICC chairman stated that if the new cuts were ordered they probably would result in a 10 percent slash in freight service and a 15 percent reduction in passenger traffic.

Passenger service on coal-burning railroads already has been cut 50 percent and freight service on such carriers has been reduced by 25 percent.

Johnson reported that the railroads had coal stocks on hand on February 24 sufficient to last an average of 13.6 days. He said he would become "uneasy" if the stocks fell below a 12-day supply.

WET SPOTS ON FARM DELAY SPRING WORK

Will my spring work be delayed this year while I wait for my fields to dry out? Some Lawrence County farmers are pondering this question. If they answer "yes," then they need a good tile system to drain their wet spots.

In 1949, Lawrence County farmers and others throughout the state put in a total of 1,000 miles of tile. Already they are praising the worth of this work. Those with longer experience say cost of tile installation usually is defrayed through increased crop production in two to five years.

Soon it will be spring plowing time, tiled fields can be plowed sooner after spring rains than if they were not tiled. When surplus water drains away the soil warms up early, and crops have a longer growing season. An early start lets the crops establish good root systems—insurance against possible future dry pells.

KEEP WOODLOTS FOR TIMBER, NOT PASTURE

What is the value of woodlots for pasture? On most farms they make better timber.

In other words, the two don't mix. In most instances, it is possible to have both pasture and woodlot, but keep them separate.

Pastured woodlots yield little forage, and to fence them in with the regular pasture involves extra fencing. Pastured woodlots deteriorate rapidly and soon cease to be worthwhile as growing timber. Young trees which regenerate the stand disappear. Soils become impacted and cause the trees to slow up in growth and become decadent.

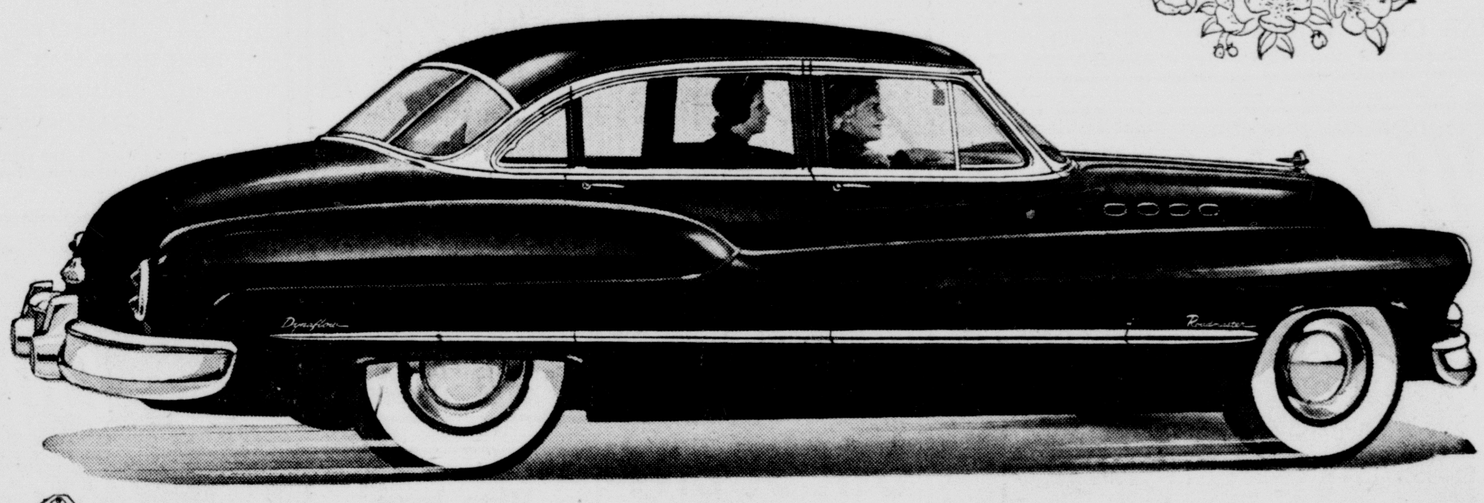

Instead of producing a cord of wood per acre each year (200 to 300 board feet, the deteriorated woodlot soils soon yield little or no net income. On the other hand, if pastures and wood lots are maintained separately and are well managed revenues will increase.

Fence out the cows. Save the extra wire and timber. Don't make the cows waste their time eating brush.

A publication entitled "Establishing, Improving, and Renovating Pasture Sods" may be secured by contacting the Agricultural Extension Office, 206 Post Office Building, New Castle.

Teen-Age Gangs Are Rounded Up In Butler County

Twenty-Six Youths Have Been Arrested; Loot Reported Large

BUTLER, Pa., Mar. 1.—(INS)—A ring of nine teen-age gangs which have preyed on the Butler area for the past three years under the leadership of two young "fagins", has been cracked with the arrest of 26 youths.

Butler Police Chief Jack Schnitzer, who directed a widespread investigation by local, state and railroad police, estimated the loot of the young crime ring at thousands of dollars.

Nineteen of the teen-agers have been turned over to Butler county Probation Officer Frank Wigton and several older youths have been charged with burglary and larceny. Additional arrests are expected shortly, Schnitzer said.

Police said the gangs, each operating independently, preyed on homes, shops, automobiles and pedestrians, and did a "terrific" business in shoplifting.

Instructed In Stealing

Their leaders, 18 and 21 years old, were described as "teachers" of the boys, instructing them on stealing, buying their loot and otherwise "directing" their operations.

Most of the youthful gang members come from "average" families and respected homes. Money was their sole motive, according to Schnitzer.

The gang members were equipped with blackjacks, revolvers and automobiles but never used the guns, he explained. Gang activities occurred after school hours.

Arrest of the youths has cleared up about 20 burglaries and is expected to lead to solution of scores of other burglaries and larcenies, according to investigators.

State Police To Quell Violence In Coal Districts

HARRISBURG, March 1.—(INS) State police will be used to quell violence in the strife-torn soft coal fields, Gov. James H. Duff said today.

"The instructions to the state police are to give complete protection on all highways at all times to the full extent of the law and to prosecute relentlessly anyone using violence," the governor said.

"Col. Wilhelm (state police commissioner) is making fullest possible use and will continue to make fullest possible use of state police in Clearfield county and everywhere else it is necessary to preserve law and order."

The governor's statement was an apparent rebuttal to a charge that he had merely referred the threatened "coal war" between striking union mine workers and non-union miners to state police instead of demanding action.

The accusation was hurled by G. Albert Stewart, secretary of the Pennsylvania Open Strip Mining association.

Good Taste

IS IT POSSIBLE TO BE TOO NEAT?

"My husband complains that I keep our house so neat that it is cold and forbidding and he can find no comfort in it. Do you think a house can ever be too orderly?"

Answer: Although your home should be neat and clean at all times, its rooms should not have that forbidding unapproachable look that makes them lack the suggestion of comfort. A magazine rack or table with a few magazines and books spread out upon it will often give a room the livable aspect that it needs.

In the days of our grandmothers, the "parlor" was too often a space which the family was forbidden to enter except when guests arrived. In the summer, its shutters were bowed. The horsehair chairs and sofas, with their anti-macassars; the marble-topped table graced with two or three literary classics; the pier-glasses holding the gloss-domed wax flowers beneath the tall mirrors that reflected no merriment, no relaxing diversions—all combined to give the room a funeral-parlor atmosphere. And so fussily kept were the adjacent hall and, perhaps the library opposite, that the family was often made to use only a side-door leading to the hinterland.

Modern generations have reacted from this melancholy severity and demand living rooms, libraries and dens where they can lounge and smoke and play their records or watch their television and have their reading matter close at hand.

Question: How far in advance of the wedding should an engagement be announced.

Answer: An engagement is usually announced as soon as it occurs which is ordinarily from two to six months before the wedding or longer, depending upon circumstances.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly send personal replies to questions from readers inclosing stamped, addressed envelopes.

Stove Plant In Philadelphia To Close On March 10

PHILADELPHIA, March 1.—(INS)—Some 500 employes of the Roberts & Mander Corp., or Hatboro, Pa., will be thrown out of work when the plant closes on March 10.

Stockholders were told yesterday that the 47-year-old stove manufacturing concern can no longer operate on a profitable basis.

Charles C. James, president, said closure was forced by continued losses and inability to raise needed working capital of from $500,000 to $750,000.

Roberts & Mander, he said, lost $296,827 in 1948 and $752,467 last year. Private bankers and the Reconstruction Finance Corp. have refused financia' assistance.

Under consideration, however, was a competitor's offer to buy control of the company for $2.62½ a share.

Youth Pleads Guilty To Strangling Charge

NORRISTOWN, Pa., March 1.—(INS)—Robert A. R. Sherman, 21, Philadelphia short-order cook who admitted strangling David R. Clement, 24, was held in Montgomery county prison today pending an inquest tomorrow.

Sherman, quoted as holding a "jungle attitude" toward society, pleaded guilty yesterday to killing Clement, a University of Pennsylvania student, at the Merion Cricket club Feb. 13.

Capt. William B. Shaffer said Sherman told him he choked the victim, a club bellhop, because the latter called him an "unprincipled epithet" when the two were alone in Clement's quarters.

PITTSBURGH, March 1.—(INS)—A power company president's appeal for electricity conservation generally was ignored last night in Pittsburgh and the city's so-called dimout was observed only by department stores, large theaters and hotels.

Rescue Two Miners Trapped In Shaft

POTTSVILLE, Pa., March 1.—(INS)—Two miners were rescued last night after being trapped seven hours in a collapsed hard coal mine shaft at Sharp Mountain.

The men are Robert Schoffstall, 24, of Minersville, and Frank Bosack, Jr., 23, of Pottsville. Bosack, the mine owner's son, was caught by a faH while trying to pry the other man loose.

Schoffstall, rescued first, was taken to a hospital with possible fractures of the skull, arm and foot. Bosack crawled out unhurt after crews dug an opening thru several feet of coal.

REPEAL WARTIME EXCISE TAXES

Wartime excise taxes on many necessities, as well as luxuries, can be repealed without loss of income to the government. All Congress has to do is TAX THE UNTAXED profits of tax-exempt commercial corporations—such as Co-operatives, Foundations, Trusts and others. Taxing the untaxed will produce ONE BILLION DOLLARS in brand new revenue. That's more than enough to repeal a good portion of present wartime excise taxes—or reduce all of them. Tell your Congressman that you and everybody else want wartime excise taxes knocked out. Here's the way it can be done—by taxing the untaxed, first.

Wampum Trounces Moon Township 75-41, Meet Avalon Tuesday

Schena And Armotorio Pace Indians To Win

The Wampum Indians won their first round game in the WPIAL elimination tournament last night at New Brighton when they defeated Moon township 75-41.

The Indians forged ahead midway in the first period and never gave up the lead. Up until early in the third quarter, however, Moon township was still very much in the ball game.

Put Game On Ice

In that third period, Wampum put the game on ice with a rally that netted 23 points to only six for the Section 16 champs.

The period started out with the Indians holding a 30-25 lead. Don Schena put a one handed shot in from the foul circle to make it 32-25 and Albert Armotorio followed with a shot from the side to make it 34-25.

Albert Birmingham kept Moon in the running with two foul shots, but Don Kwolek widened the gap again with a fielder. Marion Richie scored a fielder and Desire Marnhout followed with a free throw to make it 36-30.

Kwolek then put a shot in from in under and Paul Johnson followed with another to make it 40-30. A foul shot by Kwolek made it 41-30.

At this point Albert Armotorio put in four consecutive layup shots —three of them on assists from Schena—to practically sew the game up for the Indians, who by now were leading 49-30.

Not satisfied to stop here Don Schena put in another one handed shot to make the score 51-30. Richie made good on a foul attempt, but Schena came back with another fielder to make it 53-31 as the quarter ended.

Continue Hot Pace

The Indians continued their hot pace in the fourth quarter and by the time the period was half over they had increased their lead to 64-33.

With three minutes remaining to play Schena, Craine and Armotorio left the game in favor of Novalesi, Miller and Bingham. By this time however, Moon township was a whipped team and the Hennon machine continued to roll—final score 75-41.

Both teams were on edge early in the game and for nearly the entire first quarter played at a killing pace.

Indians Control Ball

From the very beginning Wampum controlled the ball, but couldn't seem to hit the bucket. At the beginning of the game the Indians had at least ten consecutive shots and missed every one of them.

Marnhout opened the scoring in the game with a fielder from outside the foul circle to give Moon a 2-0 lead. Caesar Craine scored the first Wampum point on a foul shot and Don Schena followed with a fielder to give the Indians a temporary 3-2 lead.

After that the lead changed hands several times until the Indians finally settled down out front. At the end of the first quarter it was Wampum 16, Moon 10.

Almost Even Count

The Moon townshippers came out fast in the second frame, however, and almost evened the count on several occasions. At one point they crept up to a 22-19 score but a foul by Craine and a goal by Schena pulled Wampum out.

Late in the period another furry of points brought the score to 27-25. This time Schena put in a foul and a fielder to make it 30-25 as the half ended.

The entire Wampum team played great ball once they settled down, with every member of the team playing an important factor in the win.

Meet Avalon Tuesday

Albert Birmingham, Marion Richie, 6 foot 4 inch center, and Desire Marnhout were best for the losers.

Richie gave the Indians and Craine a little of trouble early in the game, but Caesar was more consistent than the big boy under the bankboards.

Next opponent for the Indians will be Avalon high, Section 13 winners, next Tuesday at Dormont high school.

Fearless Tom Fears—pro-football's wonder boy of 1948—evaded the "sophmore jinx" today and officially became the National Football League's leading pass snatcher for the second consecutive year.

Blue And White Five Extends Home Victory Streak To 67

Westminster's Tall Titans turned on the power in the final half last night to rout St. Francis 88-69 before a jam-packed crowd at New Wilmington, avenging an earlier defeat.

The victory was the 21st in 23 starts this season. It set a new modern record of total wins for a season. Not since the early '30's has a Titan team been able to go above the 20 mark.

200th For Washabaugh

The victory also marked the 200th win for Washabaugh coached teams in the past 13 years. It added to the home court victory string of the Blue and White who haven't been defeated on their own floor in over eight years.

The Titans now own 67 straight victories at home.

Follows Familiar Pattern

Last night's game followed a familiar pattern of recent contests, when opponents haven't been able to cope with the second half power of the Titans. Westminster scored 55 of its 88 points in the final half against a Frankie team that weakened under the fast race horse brand of ball of the local quintet.

The game was close for two quarters. Frankie high scorer Bill Wanish led his Loretta team to a 19-15 first quarter lead, accounting for all but three of the Frankie field goals scored in that period. Westminster outscored the Frankies in the second period but were unable to overtake the lead and St. Francis led, 34-32 at the half.

Close in Early Stages

The score was tied three times in the first four minutes of the third period. With six minutes to go Clyde Shaffer tossed in a fielder from a sitting position on the floor and put the Titans ahead, 40-39. After that the Frankies were never in the ball game. Two minutes later the Titans led, 51-40 on five field goals by Ed. Halas, Allen McCullough and Bruce Wagner.

The Titans led, 58-49, at the end of the third period and outscored the Frankies 30 points to 20 in the final period to build up the 19-point margin in the game.

Halas Outstanding

Big Ed. Halas went into the game early in the third period to replace Pat King, who was forced out on personal fouls. Playing the best game of the year, Halas tossed in 15 points and turned in an outstanding performance in controlling the backboards.

The accurate passing of McCullough, which set up several hard-to-get goals in the first half, was a decided factor in keeping the Titans in the ball game. Wagner came back strong in the scoring column to lead the Titan scorers with 18 points. Jack Jones had 14 and McCullough 13.

High scorer for the night was Wanish of the Frankie quintet who tossed in 22 points. George Banchansky had 19 points for the Frankies and Aulicino had 10.

HERE and THERE IN SPORTS LAND

EIGHT PENNSYLVANIA GAME COMMISSIONERS won't have much trouble deciding on a "Yes" ballot for a week-long "any (but spike) deer" season when they meet in Harrisburg in July to decide the 1950 game season. Three good reasons are (1) claims that it has been proven the deer herd is over-balanced, (2) farmers are complaining of increased crop and land damages, and (3) more than 200,000 sportsmen in the state have decided it is urgent as well as wise and have promised their support, according to Carl Rogan of the Pittsburgh I.N.S. . . . Major league teams start training today. Opening exhibition games will get under way March 11 with the Yanks and Cards playing at Lang field, St. Petersburg, Fla., high light of the Florida schedule is the Yanks-Red Sox game in Miami's new $1,500,000 stadium. . . . In a recent bowling match in Bergen County Inter-League at Teaneck, N. J., one team rolled a 3,495 and the other 3,422. There were two 700-series on the one team and one on the other. All other keglers rolled 648, or better. In the 30 games, only 30 were under 200. . . Kevin O'Shea, Notre Dame captain leads the Irish cagers with 306 points in 20 games. . . . Jockeys Johnny Longden rides at 114 pounds, Eddie Arcaro at 115, and Steve Brooks at 111. . . . Your Host, California's three-year-old hope for the Kentucky Derby, has his own publicity agent!

Dick Schnittger, Ohio State's All-American cage star, has surpassed Jimmy Hull's three-year point total of 666 points. . . . Johnny Loccisano, manager of Billy Pozza says Johnny Clements holds a decision over Tommy Woodward, whom Pozza stopped recently at Ellwood City. Pozza and Clements fight March 3, in Ellwood City. Frankie Moran, local welterweight will help to popularize the card by battling Dave Pinto. Clements is from Dayton and Pinto, from Canton. . . . As yet the Lawrence County Council of Sportsmen have not decided on the principal speaker at their April 13 banquet. It is understood that Hon. Judge John G. Lamoree will be the toastmaster. He is an all-around sportsman, being adept with pistol, rod and line, shotgun or rifle (and incidentally when a younger man, received boxing instructions). . . . Mr Nib, Joe Rick's colt pacer, cost him a fancy sum. Rick got the colt from the Hanover Farms and will race him this season. . . . Dy Jones is arranging a collossal and stupendous vaudeville extravaganza for the Sportsman's Council banquet.
